INTRODUCTION

Each year, the Commission for Educational Exchange between the United States of America, Belgium and Luxembourg offers Fulbright awards for study, teaching or research in the United States. The awards, approximately fifty, vary from round-trip travel to grants covering all expenses for an academic year. Only students, teachers, research scholars and lecturers who are citizens of Belgium are eligible for these grants and awards. Applications from citizens of other EU Member States are accepted for the Fulbright-Schuman program (US-EU affairs) only.

In awarding the grants, the Commission's Board of Directors gives priority to candidates who are pursuing projects that will be of lasting benefit to the grantee and his or her country.

The candidates must:

- demonstrate academic excellence;
- be individually interviewed in English;
- be apt to benefit from the academic opportunity offered to them;
- have ambassadorial qualities;
- and be good representatives of their own country while they are in the United States.

Since one of the fundamental purposes of the Fulbright exchange program is to increase understanding between the peoples of the countries involved, the Board of Directors gives preference to candidates who have had no significant opportunity to live in the United States. Grantees are expected to return to their own country upon completion of the project for which the award was made.

GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Departures normally take place between August 1 and March 31. Special authorization must be sought in order to leave at another time of the year.
2. Recipients of Commission awards must travel on US Government-sponsored "Exchange Visitor" visas. They may not travel on any other visa type. Please note that anyone admitted as an Exchange Visitor to the United States must return to his or her home country for two years before returning to the United States as a permanent resident, temporary worker, trainee or intra-company transferee.
3. Candidates to study must have completed a cycle of education beyond the secondary level at a recognized institution, with outstanding academic results.
4. Candidates in education (i.e. teachers or administrators) must have had 3 years professional experience at the time of application.
5. Candidates in research must hold a European doctorate or its equivalent at the time of their departure.
6. Candidates in medicine must have received the degree of Doctor in Medicine before leaving for the United States and must intend to do research. Awards are not available for clinical training.

7. Each year the Commission offers approximately 10 grants to lecturers and researchers, 20 to graduate students, and 2 to secondary school teachers. Student awards are normally for a minimum period of one academic year. However, applicants for pre-doctoral research for a minimum period of 6 months will also be considered. Research and lecturing awards are for a minimum period of 3 months in no more than 2 different institutions. Secondary school teachers may participate in special summer programs.
8. The value of awards is indicated below. Candidates must be able to cover all other expenses.
9. Applications should be made while candidates are in correspondence with specific institutions concerning affiliation and financial support. No awards can be confirmed until candidates have submitted written evidence that they will possess adequate funds to carry out their plans in the United States.

Candidates should submit a Preliminary Application <http://www.fulbright.be/application.doc> to the Commission for Educational Exchange at their earliest convenience so that their eligibility to compete for an award may be determined. (Academic records, suitability of project, and knowledge of English are factors in determining eligibility.) Every year there are five distinct competitions for the various Fulbright awards. Detailed Final Applications and all supporting documents are due before or on the last working day nearest to one of the five competition deadline dates: October 31, January 15, March 1, April 30, or June 1 as indicated below.

IMPORTANT: Candidates must be available in Belgium for a personal interview in English. Further, under no circumstances will the Commission give grants to candidates who are already in the United States.

1. FALL COMPETITION. Final Application Deadline: 31 OCTOBER

Students and Research Scholars completing or having completed a cycle of post-secondary education may be eligible for one of the following awards for an academic year of graduate study or research in the United States:

Frank Boas Scholarships for Harvard University

These two awards cover all or most expenses for candidates continuing their education at Harvard:

1. The Frank Boas Scholarship in International Legal Studies
2. The Frank Boas Scholarship for Graduate Study

Candidates for the Frank Boas Scholarship for Graduate Study or Research may be in any field of study except business administration and must have completed a year of work-related experience by the time of departure for the United States. Successful candidates will also receive travel grants from the Commission for Educational Exchange.

Foreign Language Teaching Assistants (FLTA) Program

University graduate students and/or secondary school language teachers who have had three years of teaching experience or less are eligible to apply for this program to work as language teaching assistants in American colleges and universities. Successful candidates will be placed at a university where they will teach, serve as resource persons in conversational situations, work in language labs, etc. Tuition, room and board and a monthly stipend will be provided by the university. The Commission will provide a travel allowance as well as health and accident insurance. Candidates must be aged 29 or younger at the time of departure for the U.S.

Fulbright-Hays Journalism Grant

This scholarship is designed to aid journalists (specifically those engaged in a career in print or broadcast journalism) to study for a period of three to nine months at an accredited U.S. university.

The grant of $15,000 - $30,000 is intended to cover part of tuition and fees, books and academic supplies and room and board. Visa sponsorship and health/accident insurance are provided by the Commission for Educational Exchange.

Candidates must be citizens of Belgium or Luxembourg, have a degree equivalent to a licence/licentiaat, have ambassadorial qualities, a proven level of academic and/or professional excellence as well as outstanding results. In addition, all candidates must have at least two years of professional experience in journalism, be proficient in English, and have a specific program and/or project based on opportunities offered at American universities.

In order to apply, please see the website of The Commission for Educational Exchange: www.fulbright.be and send (preferably via email) a preliminary application to adviser@fulbright.be in order to assess your eligibility. All eligible candidates who have completed and submitted the final application by the October 31 deadline must be present for a personal interview in English which will be scheduled by the Commission.

2. JANUARY COMPETITION. Final Application Deadline: 15 JANUARY

Summer Seminar in American Studies

Professors and teachers in higher secondary education may apply to attend a two-month summer program in American Studies. All expenses are paid by the Commission. Because the program is so intensive and time consuming, no dependents may accompany the grantee during this program.

3. RESEARCH SCHOLARS COMPETITION
and
FULBRIGHT-SCHUMAN PROGRAM
Final Application Deadline: 1 MARCH

Fulbright Awards for Research Scholars and/or Lecturers

The Commission will only consider applications in this competition from research scholars and/or lecturers who are assured of a position with an American institution of higher education. Approximately 10 grants-in-aid and travel grants will be available for candidates who will undertake a minimum of three months of research or lecturing at an American university or institution of higher education.

Fulbright-Schuman Grants

Approximately 11-13 awards will be available for EU academics, professionals or policy makers for research or post-graduate study on EU affairs or US-EU relations at an accredited American university or independent research center. Each award includes a monthly stipend, plus round-trip travel, health and accident insurance and visa sponsorship. Open to nationals of all 27 EU Member States. Candidates are responsible for arranging their own affiliation and can submit projects tenable in a maximum of two different U.S. institutions. To be eligible, candidates must also have a minimum of two-years professional or academic experience in at least two EU Member States.

Two to four one-semester awards for lecturing on EU affairs or US-EU relations, integration, and/or political economy at a selected American university (EU Scholar-in-Residence program).

4. SPRING COMPETITION. Final Application Deadline: 30 APRIL

The Commission will only consider applications in the Spring Competition from students, who are assured of admission to an American university or institution of higher education for graduate-level study or pre-doctoral research.

Fulbright Awards

Approximately 20 grants-in-aid and travel grants will be available for candidates who have completed their higher education and wish to study at an American university. The awards listed below are granted by the King Baudouin Foundation, upon recommendation of the Commission:

Allen & Overy Award

At least one partial scholarship will be offered by Allen & Overy to a graduate of a Belgian university for graduate study in law in the United States.

At least one partial scholarship for graduate study in law at an accredited institution in the United States.

Linklaters De Bandt Award

At least one partial scholarship for a graduate of a Belgian university to undertake graduate study in law in the United States.

McKinsey Scholarship for Graduate Study in Business

At least two partial awards for graduate study leading to a Master's degree in business administration or related fields at an accredited institution in the United States. The amount will vary according to the financial need of the candidate. Preference will be given to candidates who have proven leadership in professional or extracurricular activities, or who have a record of community service activities.

5. FULBRIGHT AWARD FOR SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY
Final Application Deadline: 1 JUNE

The Commission for Educational Exchange is pleased to announce a new international Fulbright award for PhD study in the fields of science, technology and engineering. The award will cover the first three years of study at an American university. Specifically, all grantees will receive tuition, a monthly stipend for up to 36 months, health and accident insurance, a book and equipment allowance, research allowance, professional conference allowance, travel support, and specially tailored enrichment activities. After three years, U.S. universities will be expected to cover the remaining expenses toward completion of the Ph.D.

There are 45 awards offered worldwide. Eligible fields include; Aeronautics and Astronomics/Aeronautical Engineering; Astronomy/Planetary Sciences; Biology; Chemistry; Computer Sciences/Engineering; Engineering (electrical, chemical, civil, mechanical, ocean and petroleum); Environmental Science/Engineering; Geology/Earth and Atmospheric Sciences; Information Sciences/Engineering; Materials Science/Engineering; Mathematics; Neuroscience/Brain and Cognitive Sciences; Oceanography; and Physics.

IMPORTANT: Candidates must be available in Belgium for a personal interview in English. Further, under no circumstances will the Commission give grants to candidates who are already in the United States.

ADDITIONAL NON-COMMISSION AWARDS FOR STUDY OR RESEARCH

The following awards are not awarded by the Commission for Educational Exchange (i.e. they are non-Commission scholarships). This list of non-Commission scholarships represents only a selection of various awards that do exist. Detailed information on scholarships in specialized fields is available in the Advising Center of the Commission for Educational Exchange in the Royal Library in Brussels. ### National Humanities Center

The competition for fellowships at the National Humanities Center is open to humanistic scholars from all nations. The National Humanities Center offers approximately 40 residential fellowships for advanced study in the humanities during the academic year. Applicants must hold doctorate or equivalent scholarly credentials. Young scholars as well as senior scholars are encouraged to apply, but they must have a record of publication, and recent Ph.D.s should be aware that the Center does not support the revision of a doctoral dissertation. In addition to scholars from all fields of the humanities, the Center accepts individuals from the natural and social sciences, the arts, the professions, and public life who are engaged in humanistic projects. In addition to supporting scholars of recognized accomplishment, the Center awards fellowships to promising young scholars who are no more than ten years beyond graduate study and are undertaking projects significantly beyond their dissertation research. Most fellowships are awarded for an academic year, though a few are available for a single semester. Completed applications and recommendation letters must be sent to the Center by October 15 for the following academic year. For an application write to:

Rotary Scholarships

The Rotary Foundation offers three types of scholarships: Academic-Year Ambassadorial Scholarship; the Multi-year Ambassadorial Scholarship and the Cultural Ambassadorial Scholarship. The first two grants are open to everyone except "...for unsupervised research, medical internship or residency, or for employment on a full-time basis in the host country." In all cases, the Rotary Foundation Trustees assign candidates to an institution. More information about Rotary may be found on the Rotary Web site:

Website: <http://www.rotary.org>

The general requirements stipulate that a student must have completed at least two years of university course work, be a candidate in practical training or a vocational field, must have a high school diploma and must have worked for at least two years in a recognized vocation. The three types of scholarships are:

1. Academic Year Ambassadorial Scholarship

One academic year (9 months). The grant of a maximum of $22,000 covers round-trip transportation between the home and host country; a month of intensive English if required by Rotary; fees for books & supplies; minimum living costs and limited incidentals.

2. Multi-year Ambassadorial Scholarship

Two or 3 years depending on availability through the sponsoring sector. The grant of $11,000 per year is designed to meet costs of enrolling in and attending a university. The student must go to a university that offers a program directly in relation to his/her field of study.

3. Cultural Ambassadorial Scholarship

Candidates must have studied English for at least one year at the university level. The grant covers a 3 or 6 month period, depending on availability of funding through the sponsoring agency. A period of three months is attractive for those who have reached a certain knowledge in the language. The six month term is appropriate for a candidate who wishes to study a language presenting a high level of difficulty. The grant of $10,000 (3 months) and $17,000 (6 months) covers round-trip transportation to and from the applicant's country, tuition, fees, limited living expenses.

"The availability and types of Rotary Foundation Ambassadorial Scholarship are determined by each Rotary district and vary from year to year. Candidates must contact their local Rotary clubs to determine if and what kind of scholarships are available, to ask about local application deadlines, and to obtain application materials." Candidates or their families may not be members of the Rotary. Apply by the end of February (18 months before departure) to the Rotary Club in your area (see local phone book). Candidates from District 217 must apply by November 15 (2 years prior to departure).

-Georgia Rotary Student Program

The Rotary Clubs of the State of Georgia offer approximately 50 scholarships each year to students wishing to study at the undergraduate level in Georgia. A few scholarships are available to students for study at the graduate level. Grants cover tuition and living costs for one academic year. Students must be recommended by a Rotary Club in Belgium or Luxembourg. Final applications are due on October 1 for the following academic year. Website: <http://www.grsp.org>

Smithsonian Institution Fellowship Program

Graduate Student Fellowships, Pre-doctoral Fellowships, and Postdoctoral Fellowships, all with stipends, for 3 to 12 months in a discipline pursued at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, DC. Open to candidates in a variety of fields, including anthropology, biological sciences, earth sciences, American social and cultural history, history of science and technology, history of African art and culture, history of American and oriental art, materials analysis (archaeometry and conservation sciences). Final applications due by January 15 for fellowships beginning on or after June 1. Applications available from:
